PRESS ADVISORY:

The Cuyahoga Land Bank adds three new members to board

The appointing Board members of the Cuyahoga County Land Reutilization Corporation (commonly known as the Cuyahoga Land Bank), consisting of Cuyahoga County Executive Edward FitzGerald, Cuyahoga County Treasurer Richard Sensenbrenner and Cuyahoga County Councilman Dan Brady, recently selected Warrensville Heights Mayor Brad Sellers, City of North Olmsted Mayor Kevin Kennedy and Bobbi Reichtell to join the Cuyahoga Land Bank Board.

The new Board members will take their seats at the Cuyahoga Land Bank's next Board meeting on Friday, September 28, 2012. They will be replacing Mayor Georgine Welo of South Euclid and Mayor Cyril Kleem of Berea as well as filling one vacancy.

"We look forward to the addition of these excellent new Board members to the Cuyahoga Land Bank Board," Cleveland City Councilman Anthony Brancatelli, who is the Cuyahoga Land Bank Board Chairman, said. "We believe they bring a wealth of experience and will provide great input and oversight to the Board."

Board Chairman Brancatelli also praised the work and commitment of the outgoing Board members Welo and Kleem and expressed his appreciation for their service on the Cuyahoga Land Bank Board. "Mayors Kleem and Welo were there from the beginning and were instrumental in the Land Bank's many achievements," said Brancatelli.

The Cuyahoga Land Bank Board now consists of nine members as follows:

Anthony Brancatelli, Chairman of the Board, City of Cleveland Councilman Ward 12
Dan Brady, Vice-Chairman of the Board, Cuyahoga County Council
Richard Sensenbrenner, Cuyahoga County Treasurer
Chris Warren, Chief of Regional Development, City of Cleveland
Edward FitzGerald, Cuyahoga County Executive, represented by Nathan Kelly
Thomas Fitzpatrick, Attorney
Bobbi Reichtell
Brad Sellers, Mayor of Warrensville Heights
Kevin M. Kennedy, Mayor of North Olmsted
